EXPERIENCE

Innovation Designer at Supernova, Singapore

Full time February 2023 - Present

Supernova is a rapidly growing Retail E-Commerce company, creating innovative Health and Beauty products. As an Innovation Designer, my core activities included:

- Being fully in charge of delivering visually attractive artworks for vessels, accessories, jars, tubes, droppers, boxes for beauty and cosmetics products
- Developing and finding new packaging ideas for products, Kits and GWPs
- Design limited edition products and kits for peak season sales such as Black Friday, Christmas, Valentine's Day etc.
- Providing high quality and visually attractive Product Photographies for use on packaging, kits, website and retailers marketplaces
- Re-design and optimise existing ranges to improve the brand's products as it constantly evolves in a highly competitive market
- Produce prototypes, test functionalities and gather internal feedback

Internship July 2022 - January 2023

As an Innovation Designer Intern, my core activities included:

- Researching innovative packaging options and materials
- Being adaptable to feedback and actively resolving issues that may arise
- Bringing the packaging designer eye to quality control

Packaging Designer at Smurfit Kappa, France

Apprenticeship Sept 2018 - July 2019

Smurfit Kappa is one of the leading providers of paper-based packaging. As Packaging Designer, my core activities included:

- Managing a project from start to end taking care of its outcomes
- Gathering and evaluating client requirements working with salesmen
- Analysis and decision on the right material for the product
- Establishing and drawing a volumic packaging on Artios CAD
- Design a graphism in accordance with the product and volume
- Re-designing and improving an existing packaging

Internship April 2018 - August 2018

Under the supervision of the head of the Design Office, my core activities included:

- Working on a client brief supervised by the head of the design office
- Drawing a volumic packaging on Artios CAD
